

Press Release – for immediate release
Pacifecon Construction Reports and Cordell Information form
Trans-Tasman Alliance

Pacifecon Construction Reports is excited to announce the formation of a strategic Trans-Tasman partnership with leading Australian construction project information provider – Cordell Information.

Partnering with Cordell, Pacifecon can now offer Australian data, in addition to its New Zealand and Pacific Island construction information, to the New Zealand construction industry.

Pacifecon’s NZ Business Manager, Isobel McBeth, said “We are delighted to be able to extend our construction reporting to include Australia in addition to New Zealand and the Pacific Islands by working with Cordell Information. Pacifecon and Cordell share the same strong focus on excellence in customer service and the delivery of quality information and we look forward to providing this excellence to the New Zealand Construction Industry”.

Cordell Information Chief Executive Officer Rob Wild said “this is an exciting development for both businesses that will provide significant benefits to customers in Australia and New Zealand. Cordell and Pacifecon have a huge amount of experience in reporting on construction projects in our respective markets. By working together customers on both sides of the Tasman will benefit.”

Pacifecon Construction Reports have been researching and reporting on New Zealand and the Pacific Islands for over 28 years delivering quality, early and up to date construction project information to the New Zealand construction and related markets and are the trusted eyes and ears of the New Zealand construction industry.

Since 1969 Cordell Information has been at the forefront of providing the most reliable, timely and comprehensive Australian construction industry information. Cordell is part of the global Reed Elsevier group, which is listed on the London, New York and Amsterdam stock exchanges.
